

Building Material Suppliers Association

Fall 2022 CFO Roundtable & Training Conference

October 6 & 7, 2022

This conference will include presentations and discussions on current-day issues pertinent to CFOs in the building materials industry. Topics will include an accounting update of new and developing accounting topics, to include implementation guidelines for the new lease standard. The conference will include an analysis and critique of a member's operations resulting from a site visit. In addition, all participants will participate and speak on issues they have addressed in their organizations and provide solutions that have been successful and those "solutions" that were less than successful, as well as discussions on current hot button topics. Finally, all participants will review, analyze, compare, and benchmark each member's 2022 year-to-date financial statements and operational performance.
